Welcome

A Word from the Director

Dear Colleague:

I am pleased to invite you to the Department of Mental Health's annual Spring Training Institute and National Autism Symposium. We hope you will benefit from the opportunity to learn from experts in the fields of mental health, developmental disabilities, and substance abuse while also interacting with other professionals, family members, and persons needing services and supports from all three of the Department's operating divisions.

This year's theme, Advancing Our Knowledge, reflects our pledge to provide Missourians challenged by mental illness, substance abuse disorders, and developmental disabilities with services that are timely, effective, and efficient. In spite of these difficult financial times, we must stay abreast of the latest research and best practices in order to maintain a quality of care that results in the best possible outcomes for our consumers and their families.

It is important for you to know that both events are funded through conference registration fees, co-sponsorships, and exhibitor fees, so that services to consumers are not compromised. It is only through this external support that we are able to provide you with such high quality training year after year. Many of your staff and ours would be unable to maintain necessary professional licensure and certification without it. In addition, consumers and family members provide powerful input and have the opportunity to benefit as self-advocates. The Department's Spring Training Institute demonstrates our ongoing commitment to a workforce that is caring, competent, and valued.

Sincerely,

Dorn Schuffman, Director Department of Mental Health
